Second Place Winner Farah Nassereddine

I chose Eastern Michigan University to study Interior Design for its' strict curriculum & CIDA Accreditation. With a passion for arts and interior environments I knew that pursuing a degree in Interior Design would combine my creative and analytical skills transcending into a fun and rewarding career. In every semester I'm developing new skills and learning new programs, one of my favorite programs is the CET Configura which I used to design "Next" office. Create this space opened my eyes to commercial design and was such a great experience. I believe that with every semester this program makes me more passionate about what I'm doing.

Third Place Winner Pei Yao Huang

This office design project had opened my eyes to commercial design, and it was love at the first sight. After working on this office design project I have decided to focus my design career on commercial design. The space for creativity and material/fixtures choice is just tremendous. I am grateful for this opportunity designing the NEXT's Denver office.
